LIV Golf expanding tournament format to 72 holes in 2026

World ranking points could be on offer for Saudi Arabia-backed circuit

LIV Golf events will be played over 72 holes starting in 2026, the Saudi Arabia-backed circuit announced on Tuesday in a move that could help its bid to have players earn crucial world ranking points.

Since its inception in 2022, LIV Golf tournaments have been 54-hole, no-cut events, with the majority played from Friday to Sunday, an unconventional format that played a role in the Official World Golf Ranking denying it ranking points.

LIV Golf also said its individual and team competitions would continue to run concurrently, with the shotgun-start format remaining in place.

Moving to four days of competition, with events generally beginning on Thursday of tournament weeks, puts LIV Golf more in line with the setup of other established circuits like the PGA Tour.

There was no mention as to whether LIV Golf would impose a halfway cut.

"This is a win for the League and the players," said two-time major champion Jon Rahm, LIV Golf's reigning individual champion and captain of the circuit's Legion XIII.

"LIV Golf is a player's league. We are competitors to the core and we want every opportunity to compete at the highest level and to perfect our craft.

"Moving to 72 holes is the logical next step that strengthens the competition, tests us more fully, and if the growing galleries from last season are any indication, delivers more of what the fans want."

The stakes are high for LIV's star-studded roster, a cast that, in addition to Rahm, includes Bryson DeChambeau, Tyrrell Hatton and Phil Mickelson, as world rankings play a key role in determining entry into golf's four majors.

The lack of ranking points has led to LIV Golf players tumbling down the rankings, with former world number one Dustin Johnson now ranked 604th in the OWGR.

"The move to 72 holes marks a pivotal new chapter for LIV Golf that strengthens our league, challenges our elite field of players and delivers more of the world-class golf, energy, innovation and access that our global audience wants," LIV Golf CEO Scott O'Neil said.

In October 2023 LIV Golf's bid to have its players earn ranking points was unanimously rejected by the OWGR, which said "at this time" the circuit would not be recognised as an Eligible Golf Tour in its system.

At the time, the OWGR said LIV Golf's 54-hole, no-cut events were an issue but added that it was one that was capable of being managed through an appropriate mathematical formula.

LIV formally withdrew its application in March 2024 but the OWGR said this year that it had received a new application in June from the circuit and had commenced a review process.

Sabalenka overpowers Pegula, Gauff eliminates Paolini in Finals

World number 1 Aryna Sabalenka earned a 6-4 2-6 6-3 win over Jessica Pegula, while defending champion Coco Gauff put on a clinical performance to beat Jasmine Paolini 6-3 6-2 and eliminate the Italian in Riyadh on Tuesday.

Sabalenka, who has won two matches in a row in the round-robin Group Steffi Graf, is on the verge of qualifying for the semifinals.

Gauff and Pegula, who have one win each, also remain in contention for the last four.

"[Pegula] is an incredible player. She always pushed me to the limit ...

"I was thinking, I'm gonna go after my shots, stay aggressive, put all of that speed back on her and hope I get my chance," four-time Grand Slam champion Sabalenka said.

Sabalenka got the first break with a chip across the court to go 4-2 up, but Pegula soon broke back to make it 5-4.

Pegula saved three set points in the next game, but a persistent Sabalenka clinched a decisive break with a powerful forehand from the baseline.

The US Open champion, who had beaten Paolini on Sunday, grew frustrated as she made 13 unforced errors, nearly twice as many as Pegula, as the American got two breaks to build a 5-2 lead before saving two break points to secure the second set.

Sabalenka struggled with double faults as Pegula broke early in the third set.

However, the Belarusian responded with returns near the sidelines to get two straight breaks, building a 4-2 lead that proved unassailable for Pegula.

Two-time Grand Slam winner Gauff, who made 17 double faults when she lost to fellow American Jessica Pegula in her first game in Group Steffi Graf on Sunday, committed only three double faults this time as she dominated the eighth seed earlier in the evening.

The 21-year-old American took just over 10 minutes to build a 3-0 lead in the first set before Paolini went through a nine-minute battle to fend off three break points and win her first game.

Paolini got a break but Gauff drew the Italian into backhand rallies and won points with precise cross-court shots to claim the next game and take a 5-3 lead before holding to win the set.

The French Open champion's strategy of making Paolini run constantly from one side of the court to the other paid off again when Gauff got back-to-back breaks to go 5-2 up in the second.

She secured victory with a powerful serve that Paolini could only hit into the net.

Paolini was eliminated from the tournament with two straight defeats.

"I knew today's win was important to keep myself in the tournament.

"If I lost, I would have been out," world number 3 Gauff said.

World number 2 Iga Swiatek will take on Amanda Anisimova on Wednesday, while Elena Rybakina will face Madison Keys in Group Serena Williams. — Reuters
